Special aid for Venice?

The possibility of special federal and state financial help to the beleaguered Venice school system has been raised by State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene of the 50th Illinois Legislative District.

The local senator told the Press-Record today that he has contacted Congressman Melvin Price of the 23rd Congressional District and the two U.S. senators from Illinois, Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson.

Sen. Vadalabene cited a Jan. 2 Press-Record editorial, "State has helped make East St. Louis a rich school system, but is mainly turning a deaf ear to Venice."

The senator wrote the federal legislators — with a copy to Illinois State Education Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin — as follows:

"In case it may have escaped your notice, I am forwarding to you a copy of an editorial from the Granite City Press-Record in regard to the plight of the schools in the City of Venice."

"While I would not for a moment begrudge the City of East St. Louis any

Bitter cold, added snow

For the third weekend in a row, ice, snow and plunging temperatures moved into the Quad-City area Saturday, causing severe driving problems on ice-covered and snow-drifted highways.

Preceded earlier Saturday by fog and freezing rain, snow moved into the area during the mid-morning Saturday. Before moving eastward, the snow had dropped another four inches of snow throughout the region.

The freezing rain earlier resulted in ice-coated highways and side roads, causing dozens of accidents. State police said a number of cars were in ditches because of slippery highways.

The additional snow Saturday added to the nine inches already on the ground as the result of earlier winter storms. The area was hit by a severe ice storm on New Year's eve, snapping thousands of power lines and tree limbs and playing havoc in general with driving conditions.

That storm was accompanied by a four-inch snowfall, followed on the Jan. 7-8 weekend by another five inches of snow.

Bitter cold moved into the area

Site change opposed No further federal trial delay likely

U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman indicated during a hearing Friday in Alton that he is against postponing the trial of former sheriff John Maeras, Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fund-raiser Leland Stoller beyond the scheduled starting date of Feb. 5.

However, where the trial is to be held remains a question which is to be resolved in a telephone conference call today between the judge and the attorneys for the three.

Judge Ackerman indicated Friday that the trial likely will be held in Alton, but St. Louis and Springfield are possibilities. Both Bruce Cook, attorney for Maeras, and H. Carl Runge, attorney for Cooper, indicated they feel it in the best interests of their clients to remain in Alton or in this immediate area.

Michael Costello, attorney for Stoller, however, stressed he did not feel his client could obtain a fair trial in Madison County, due to extensive news coverage of the federal indictment and the events leading up to it, including the Alton trial of three former Madison policemen who were convicted of racketeering and perjury.

Costello also filed a motion asking that his client be separated from the other two defendants for trial, noting that five counts of the 26-count federal indictment do not even refer to Stoller or his activities.

At one point, when Runge was arguing motions pertaining to Cooper and Maeras, he referred to Costello, who responded, "I'm not in this case. Go ahead." Costello then sat down at the table with the government prosecution attorneys, leaving Runge and Cook at the defense attorneys' table. Costello remained at the prosecution table the remainder of the hearing.

While Judge Ackerman did not make any formal rulings on the motions, he indicated he is opposed to moving the trial from Alton, because of the cost to the government and defendants of State to push for coal plant

Governor James R. Thompson announced Thursday he is recommending the state provide $18 million in Coal and Energy Development Bond Funds toward the building of a $100 million coal gasification demonstration plant near Wood River and East Alton.

The project is designed to show how high-sulfur Illinois coal can be converted into gas suitable for electricity production by utilities in a way that stays within environmentally acceptable standards, Thompson said.

The Governor's recommendation to use the bond funds is subject to approval by the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, which has 45 days to act upon the Governor's request.

"Illinois must put itself in the forefront of efforts to find acceptable ways to use Illinois high-sulfur coal to produce electrical energy," Thompson said.

"This project, in which the utilities themselves are the participants, will demonstrate a way to use this state's coal resources to generate electricity and meet environmental standards at the same time," he said.

The governor also said the project will have immediate benefits for Illinois people. It will require 300 workers to build the plant and 100 persons will be needed to operate it.

The facility would be built in partnership by the Allis-Chalmers Corporation, which developed the gasification technology, the Illinois Power Company and 10 other eastern and midwestern electric utilities, which are the eventual market for the process.

The coal gasification plant, which would test a process known as

Car kills woman on 203

Miss Dena Mayfield, 19, of Pocahontas, Ill., was killed when she was struck by a car at 1:15 a.m. Saturday.

David Partney, deputy Madison County Coroner, pronounced her dead at the scene at 1:23 a.m.

The accident occurred on Route 203, one tenth of a mile north of Maryville Road.

Area weather outlook

Increasing cloudiness and not quite so cold today. High in the teens. Cloudy with chance of snow tonight. Low tonight 10 to 15. Cloudy with chance of snow flurries Tuesday. High Tuesday in low 20s. Chance of snow Wednesday. Clear and cold Thursday and Friday with lows 5 to 15, highs 20 to 25. Less than an inch of snow expected Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Mayfield, apparently driving south on Route 203, lost control of her car which skidded into a ditch.

After trying to get out of the ditch unsuccessfully with the assistance of two local men who stopped to help her, she decided to walk over to Bowland and call a wrecker.

While walking east across the highway, according to Illinois state police, she stepped into the path of a northbound auto on Route 203, driven by Stephanie Bullock, 20, of St. Louis.

Bullock apparently tried to stop but was unable to do so, according to police. No charges were filed.

Mortgage plan advances

Granite City has taken the initial steps toward implementing a mortgage bond program which would reduce the interest rates on home mortgages for residents of the city.

A. G. Edwards & Son, Inc., a 91-year-old investment firm based in St. Louis, and Lehman Brothers, Kuhn, Loeb, Inc., a firm experienced in structuring and underwriting housing bond issues, have been named by the city to work with local home mortgage lending agencies and the city government to develop a program which will deliver mortgages to meet local needs.

Agreement with the two firms to represent the city in developing the program — a plan under which Granite City home buyers could obtain financing at rates lower than the regular market level — was made by Arvil Taylor, administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schuler who has been in charge of

Mrs. Spengel, 90, dies

Mrs. Wilhelmina C. "Minnie" Spengel, 90, of Highland, who leaves relatives in the Quad-City area, died Thursday at 7:15 p.m. at the Highland Manor Nursing Home, where she had been a patient for the past five years.

Mrs. Spengel was born in Bond County, Ill., near Pocahontas. She lived there until 1915, moving then to the Pierron, Ill., area and, in 1960, became a resident of Highland.

She was a member of St. Paul's Catholic Church of Highland and St. Ann Altar Society and League of Mary, both affiliated with the church.

Mrs. Spengel and her husband, Joseph S., were married Oct. 27, 1908 in Pierron. He died Jan. 1, 1976. Two brothers and four sisters also preceded her in death.

Surviving are four sons, Laurel Spengel of Granite City, Cyril J. Spengel, Highland, Floyd Spengel, Edwardsville, and Charles H. Spengel, Thousand Oaks, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Walter (Lorraine) Frey, Quincy, Ill.; two brothers, Othmar Wagner, Webster Groves, Mo., and Elmer Wagner, Pontoon Beach; a sister, Mrs. Linda Melton, Belleville; 18 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today at a Highland mortuary, with burial at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Highland.

Allegedly hits sister, charged

Terry Lee Spalding, 23, of 2520 Parkside Apartments, was arrested on a state charge of battery at 1:10 a.m. Friday.

The arrest occurred after Spalding pulled alongside a vehicle operated by his sister, Connie A. Spalding, 2727 Angela Drive, at 12:05 a.m. Friday in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue, and allegedly slammed the car door into his sister's auto, then grabbed Miss Spalding by the hair and struck her in the face and head, according to police.

Spalding was taken into custody by Madison police officers and returned to Granite City, where the charge was filed.

Mrs. Dusek, 84, dies

Mrs. Fanny Dusek, 84, of Alton, formerly of Madison, died at 1:27 a.m. Saturday in the Eldercare Nursing Home in Alton where she had been a patient for some time. Born in Yugoslavia, she lived in this country since she was 16 years old. She was preceded in death by her husband, Leopold Dusek in 1934.

Survivors include: two daughters, Mrs. Mike (Anne) Tarasovich and Mrs. Wilma Sydow, both of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Katherine Turek of Yugoslavia; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Lovins infant dies

Terrance Wayne Lovins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger (Brenda) Lovins, 2121 Cleveland Blvd., died at 11:10 a.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The infant died one hour and 52 minutes after birth.

Coal plant

"KILnGAS" would be linked to an Illinois Power Company electric generating facility.

Construction is planned to begin in early 1980, with testing and the demonstration phase of the project to continue through about 1985. Operating at full capacity, the gasification plant is expected to consume about 600 tons of coal each day.

In addition to Illinois Power, with headquarters in Decatur, utilities participating in the demonstration project are:

Central Illinois Public Service Company, Springfield; Consumers Power Company, Jackson, Michigan; Iowa Power, Des Moines, Iowa; Monongahela Power Company, Fairmont, West Virginia; The Potomac Edison Company, Hagerstown, Maryland; Public Service Indiana, Plainfield; Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Tulsa; Union Electric Company, St. Louis; West Penn Power Company, Greensburg, Pennsylvania; and Ohio Edison Company, Akron.

Each will contribute some of the funding and each will have the right to later purchase similar gasification plants at their electric generating stations. The project is unique in that it does not include the federal government as a participant.

Allis-Chalmers has agreed to repay the State of Illinois up to $8 million on a scheduled basis once commercial sales of the gasification technology have begun.

Thompson said that the demonstration process may offer utility companies an alternative to the expenses of importing western coal or to installing scrubbers to remove pollutants when high-sulfur coal is burned by conventional methods.

As a result, he added, KILnGAS and other gasification technologies may help reverse a recent trend in which the consumption of Illinois coal has declined 38 percent.

During the period from 1967 to 1977, the amount from 18 percent to 43 percent, "an unfortunate situation when we in Illinois have abundant supplies of coal in our own state," the governor said.

Thomas L. Dineen, executive vice president of Allis-Chalmers, said, "The development of the KILnGAS system could have major national impact on the use of coal for environmentally acceptable power generation.

"This represents both a major opportunity for the domestic coal industry and an opportunity to reduce our nation's dependence on imported oil. The investment incentive for both Allis-Chalmers and the utilities we are associated with in this venture is the attractive future large-plant potential to achieve both lower coal-based electrical generation costs and improved environmental controls," Dineen said.

William C. Gerstner, Executive Vice President of Illinois Power Company, said:

"Ratepayers and all residents of Illinois and other high-sulfur coal-producing states will benefit by this investment of research and development funds."

"The selection of our Wood River Power Plant as the site of a demonstration facility for research and development of environmentally acceptable and economically feasible ways to use high-sulfur coal."

Offer reward Reeves airport director for arrest in shooting

A $625 reward will be paid by the Police Benevolent Association of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved in an attempted murder of a police officer at SIUE's East St. Louis Center on Jan. 5.

Officer Marvin Strode was struck by a shotgun blast fired by a burglar inside the Center about 11:30 p.m. Strode was not seriously injured and has been released following hospital treatment.

Anyone with information is requested to contact any area police department or call 618-397-0380. Charles Heinz, information officer for the University Police, said all information will be kept confidential. He said law enforcement personnel do not qualify for the reward.

The reward will be withdrawn July 1, 1979, if not claimed. Payment will be made within 120 days of the conviction of the person or persons responsible.

Heinz said anyone wishing to pledge monies to the reward fund is urged to call Lt. Bill Naeve, treasurer, SIUE Police Benevolent Fund, at 618-692-3324.

William B. Reeves, director of planning for the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority since 1972, was appointed Thursday afternoon as executive director to succeed Arven H. Saunders.

The action was announced by William S. Badgley, authority chairman. Reeves will take the post when Saunders leaves at the end of this month for an airport development assignment with the Saudi Arabian government.

Reeves has directed the planning work throughout the period of preparing the site application and environmental impact statement for the Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., airport.

"We are fortunate that the work of the authority can be carried on under the direction of a person with Bill Reeves' qualifications," Badgley said. "The day is moving ever closer when events will make it essential for the federal government to resume funding for this much-needed, federally approved project."

Reeves brought to his planning duties a broad record in airport and other major projects, Badgley noted. He was project manager for a $40-million expansion program at the Greater Cincinnati Airport from 1969 to 1972.

Before that, he served for four years as a senior executive engineer in planning and advisory responsibilities for the Government of Tanzania.

In 1964 and 1965, he was with the I. M. Pei Associates architectural firm in New York, as a member of the design team for the National Airports terminal at Kennedy Airport. Prior to that, he had served in the Air Force as an installation officer in the construction of major new air bases in Europe.

Reeves, a registered architect, is a member of the American Institute of Architects. He serves on the technical committee of the Airport Operators Council International and is a Director of the Illinois Public Airports Association. He is an alumnus of the University of Kansas.

Reeves and his wife, Jeanne, live at 111 LaMoine Lane, Belleville.

preparing the complete program for presentation to the city Council.

Taylor said Friday: "Initial public response to the proposed program has been very encouraging. Since the program first was announced in early January, the mayor's office has received numerous calls from citizens seeking more information concerning the program."

"This is a very positive indication that there is a considerable number of persons interested in purchasing homes at the lower interest rates the mortgage bond program will provide. In some instances (in other programs) the savings have been 2 percent."

"Other segments of the community also have expressed a strong interest. In February, Mayor Schuler will explain the benefits of the program at the Rotary Club prayer breakfast."

"A. G. Edwards & Son has a long history as a securities firm serving individual, corporate and institutional clients. The firm ranks ninth in number of investment brokers and 28th in the amount of equity capital. It also is in the final stages of a similar mortgage bond program for Springfield, Ill.

"Lehman Brothers, Kuhn, Loeb, Inc., has a wide range of experience in structuring and underwriting housing bond issues, dating from the earliest attempts to sell housing securities in the nation's capital markets. The firm has served as managing underwriter or financial adviser for a number of housing finance agencies, including the Atlanta Housing Authority, Los Angeles Municipal Finance Agency and the Missouri Housing Development Commission."

Taylor said a step-by-step program covering a projected period of 15 weeks to complete all steps has been outlined. That program will include meetings between the bond experts, city officials and lenders, preparation of service agreements and general bond indenture. It also will include meetings in which City Council members will be given all operative details of the proposed program. Once the program has been given final approval by the City Council, procedure to issue and sell the bonds will be initiated.

Under the plan, proceeds of the bond issue would be used to reimburse regular mortgage lenders who make loans for home purchases. Reimbursement of the program note that such bonds usually can be sold for 7 to 7.5 percent, permitting mortgages at 8 or 8.5 percent. The 1 percent between the bond cost and mortgage interest would finance administration work. The present money market rate is about 10 percent on such mortgages.

No amount of a proposed bond issue has yet been advanced. The city of Belleville recently initiated such a mortgage plan with a $25 million issue. The Granite City issue is expected to be about half that amount.

Mrs. Mamie Slankard dies

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR YOUR DRIVERS LICENSE TEST?

In 1976 and 1977 over 165,000 Illinois residents failed the State written Driver's License test. Apparently they thought they were prepared.

WHY DO DRIVERS FAIL?

Experts say "the main reason is that rules, laws and traffic signs have changed and drivers don't keep up with all the changes."

If you're nervous and concerned about being tested when you have to take your test and don't want to fail or lose your license, here's good news! National Drivers Test Service, Inc. has published a booklet with the up to date questions, answers and international road signs you should know to help you pass your test. Law enforcement now a profession—Maj. Bright

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Law enforcement throughout the country is changing into a "professional elite" and no longer is a political animal, Major Fred Bright, director of operations for the Madison County Sheriff's Department, said here last week.

Major Bright was the guest speaker at a meeting of Explorer Post 10-4 held at the Madison Police Department.

"In law enforcement today it is no longer just good enough to know a politician. You have to be a professional, you have to be dedicated and you have to perform in the job," Bright said.

"Every officer is responsible for his actions to someone. I am responsible to Sheriff Toffant, and the sheriff is responsible to the people who elected him."

"No one will be hired by our department unless he or she can pass a strict background investigation. We will talk to neighbors, teachers, past employers. We want to know what type of a person they are."

"Our deputies must set an example. Policemen see people when they are very upset, just after a burglary or loss of a loved one in the family. The first image the officer presents has a definite and very lasting influence on people."

Among the new methods of operations of the Sheriff's Department, Bright mentioned a "Mobile Reserve" unit.

This unit will act independently and not be assigned a particular section of the county. The unit will be able to saturate an area when needed.

One of the programs the Sheriff's Department is trying to set up is to have citizen band radios in each patrol car, he said.

"The phone system we have at the department was fine 30 years ago, but with only a few emergency lines it could be hard to get through, and calling us for many is a toll call. Most farmers and many people in the rural areas have citizen band radios. If we were monitoring Channel Nine, our response time to a call would be much faster."

Another new area that the sheriff wants to get started, as funding becomes available, is having a patrol car assigned on a permanent basis to each deputy.

Bright noted that one of the best ways to stop crime is by the mere presence of police.

"This is the theory in police work known as 'omni presence.' There is a tremendous amount of lost time in our cars returning to Edwardsville just to gas up, pick up their cars, then return to the areas of patrol," Major Bright said.

"I sincerely believe 99 percent of all policemen want to do a good job, but they need the opportunity to do it. Under Sheriff Toffant we have a very open organization, where any deputy can feel free to voice his opinion and his ideas on how we can better serve the people of Madison County."

"Law enforcement is as good a career as you want it to be. A person will not get rich being a policeman but there are many intangible rewards. Law enforcement can really get into your blood and stay there," he added.

Major Bright has a bachelor's and master's degree, was on the Alton police force for six years and at age 29 became chief of police of East Alton.

Special guests at the Explorer meeting included: Madison County Sheriff Emil Toffant, Genia Forshee, associate adviser. Explorer Post 1678; William Fox, adviser to the Explorer Presidents Association (EPA); Deputy Sheriff Brad Crown, Sgt. William Fanning and Officer Larry Gavigli, all of whom are on the adult committee of Post 10-4, and Madison Officer William Weidner, adviser to 10-4.

The Explorers have been studying the operation of the Madison County Sheriff's department for the past several weeks.

Beginning with the Post 10-4 Wednesday, Jan. 24 meeting, the group will begin a study into the functions of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

'Volunteer of Year' nominations due now

Nominations are due today for the 1978-79 Volunteer Woman of the Year Award, a program sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Mrs. Lois Wetton, BPPW president, said the awards program will give recognition to volunteer workers for contributions made in community service.

Letters concerning candidates may be sent to: Public Relations Committee, 2465 Lynch Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Information relating to the nominees may be accompanied by supporting letters from the group in which the person is involved.

Those nominated do not have to be affiliated with the business women's group, which is only sponsoring the program, Mrs. Wetton said.

The winner will be announced at the March 21 dinner meeting of the Granite City club.

Mrs. Florence Moore is public relations chairman for the club.

RECORD RELEASED. DeWayne Orender, former resident of Granite City has released a new album, and a fan club is now being started for him.

Orender fan club started

Yet another former Granite Cityan, DeWayne Orender, has made it in the ranks of professionals, and is now being honored with a fan club.

Orender, a country western singer, was born and reared in the Quad-City area. He started his singing and writing career at an early age, and while living in this area sang in the St. Louis area and in Illinois. Orender also sang on radio station KSTL for a time, along with his father and brother.

The former Granite Cityan moved to Nashville, Tenn., in order to further his music career. Since that time, he has had several records released, one of which is being played now on radio stations around the country entitled "You Mention My Name in Your Song, and I'll Mention Your Name in Mine." He co-wrote and produced this song and sang it with Faron Young's son, Robyn.

He has written songs for Connie Smith, Helen Cornelius and various other top recording artists.

Anyone interested in joining the fan club may contact Betty Basinger, president, at Rural Route Two Box 20A, Sullivan, Mo., 1-314-468-4389 or Joan Jordan, vice-president, at 2927 Circle Drive, Granite City, 876-4345, a club official said.

Siberian Husky stolen 2nd time

Someone stole a male Siberian Husky, valued at $200, from the rear yard at the home of John Rozycki, 2301 Edison Ave., the owner reported Thursday.

The 2-year-old black, silver and white animal named Shiska, was chained in the yard. The dog was stolen about a year ago and recovered by the humane department, Rozycki said.

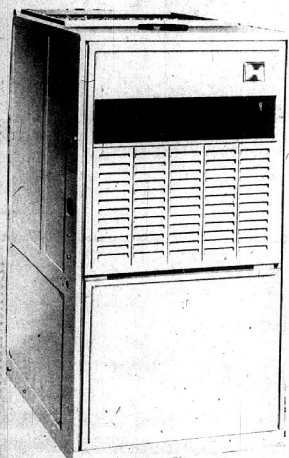

TRUCK IS STOLEN

The white 1977 Ford Super Cab truck of William Murphy, Cottage Hills, was stolen from the parking lot of A. O. Smith Corp., Missouri Ave. (Old Route 3) between 6:30 a.m. and 3:35 p.m. Monday. The truck has red stripes and a red and white camper shell. Inside were two spare tires worth $70, a $25 camera and two hydraulic jacks worth a total of $36.

The Lighter Side

By CATHEY JAMISON
Press-Record Feature Editor

Broken limbs make yard woodcutter's nightmare

Help! I am surrounded! Nature has covered my trees with ice and turned them into monsters. My front yard looks like the aftermath of a woodcutter's nightmare.

Like so many others, I was a victim of the ice storm, or rather my trees were. My beautiful Chinese Elms have turned into ice laden giants, ready to throw their limbs at the first human who passes by. My yard is full, from driveway to driveway, with some of the meanest looking tree branches you ever saw.

I have been talking to my trees, much in the same way I talk to my plants. "Hang in there, I'm really sorry you are so uncomfortable, but it isn't my fault." Either they aren't hearing me or they don't believe me, because they keep attacking me and mine.

It has been something like a horror movie, where the vegetation comes alive and eats Chicago. I don't dare step out of the house for fear that one of the huge limbs will fall upon my head and ruin my hairdo.

I heard the first branch crack on Sunday. I sounded like a rifle shot. I ducked, even though I was snuggled up in my bed, nowhere near a window. After I decided that no one was shooting directly at me, I went to the living room window to see who was taking target practice.

There it was, right behind my car, (the stupid one). It was not a misplaced hunter, but an enormous branch, bigger than the car. The thing had missed my automobile by inches.

I raced to get dressed and move the car. I was sure that the next limb to come crashing down would do so across the roof of my poor doctored vehicle.

I went outside and moved to start the car on its way towards the protection of the garage. Dumb thing wouldn't turn over. I talked, begged and pleaded and fiddled with the ignition. Finally, after what seemed like 20 minutes, the car roared to life and I sent it screeching toward the garage.

Just about that time I heard another crack and watched as an eight inch limb fell directly on the spot where the car had been just a minute before.

It was from that point on that I knew the trees were after me. But the driveway had to be cleared if I was ever to escape my home, so I was forced to be brave and work around the menacing trees.

I tugged and pulled and fished falling limbs for the next several hours, going in the house every once in a while to thaw out. The boys wanted to help Mommie, but I made them stay inside. They thought I was actually having fun. Kids are nuts.

I pressed my entire front service and together we cleared the driveway. The branches, at least 12,000 of them, cover my entire front yard and most of the back. I have enough wood to build a small house or keep a fireplace going all winter.

But I have no need for an icy dollhouse and I have no fireplace. Know anyone who could use some wood? It's free for the taking at my house.

South slams Shells to win 6th straight

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

ROXANA — The cager-squad of Granite South added to its winning streak by downing the Roxana Shells 53-42. South was behind by six at the close of the first quarter, then by three at the end of the half. The Warriors have now won six in a row.

The first period wasn't the best of the Warriors to say the least. They shot 18 times, with only four of them going through the hoop. "Take away the first quarter," said South's coach, Don Deterding, "and we shot adequately well." South shot 42 percent from the field making 23 out of 55 shots and they only made seven out of 20 from the line for 35 percent.

Roxana shot for 60 percent from the free throw line making six out of ten but they only shot for 33 percent from the field, 18 out of 54. The Shells out rebounded the Warriors by one 36-35. Jeff Tretter and Lee Huebner both of South had 11 rebounds each. Roxana gave the ball up more times as they had 20 turnovers to 15 of South.

South played without Jamie Blasingame. "Blasingame has been doing exceptionally well for the squad, but unfortunately he came down with a case of Chicken Pox and will be out the entire week and probably will miss both of the weekend games."

Bill Skinner started in place of Blasingame and did a fine job. "Skinner played a big role in our defense," said Coach Deterding. "He rejected six or seven shots."

Top dog of the contest was Huebner with 15 total points followed closely by Chris Wright of Roxana with 14. Jeff Parker had ten points and the three other starters (Jeff Tretter, Jeff Vaughn, and Skinner) had eight a piece.

"They made us play their game in the first half," commented Coach Deterding. "We became a more disciplinary type team late in the second quarter and our defense held Roxana's offense to only 15 points throughout the second half."

Had South not missed that many free tosses, the score would not have been nearly so close. The Warriors missed four one-on-one situations in the fourth quarter alone.

This weekend South plays

two games. First, on Friday night, South hosts the annual city title game—North vs. South at 8 p.m. and Saturday night, South will find themselves doing battle against the Kahoks of Collinsville at the Kahok's Fletcher gymnasium.

"We're not going to do anything special against Collinsville," said Deterding. "We'll do basically the same thing."

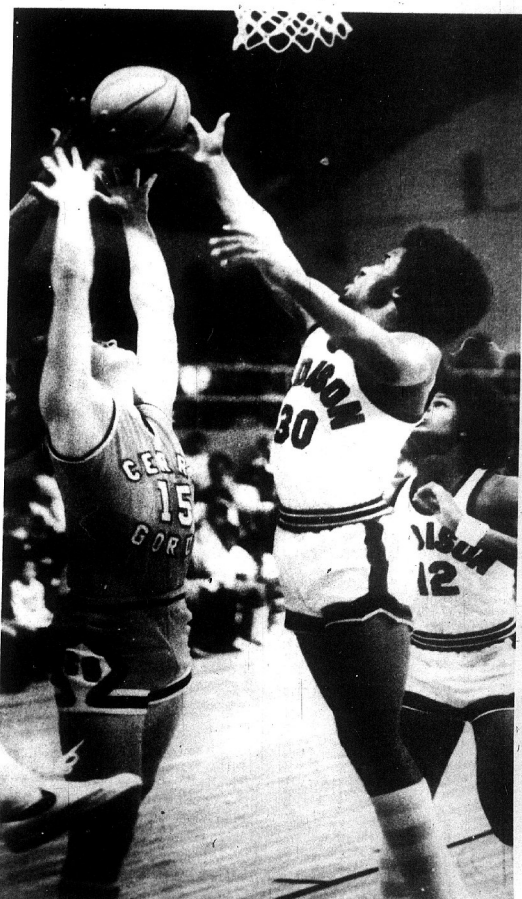

"It'll be more difficult with the home crowd," said Deterding. "It would really be nice to have his out side shot, but it can't be that way—so we can't cry about it."

Last year, the Warriors took the title of Granite City basketball champs by beating North 51-43. Parker, Tretter, and Huebner are the only three returning for South who scored in the game last year. Dennis Page and Rusty Chappell are the two who are returning with scoring experience against the Warriors for North's team.

Broncos (de)pressed, 78-60

By KEVIN ALLEN
for the Press-Record

MADISON — Even though Madison's basketball Trojans defeated Cerro Gordo Friday 78-60, there are those who think that Madison might not be as effective now in the second half of the season as it was in the first.

Earlier this season, Madison coach Larry Graham said, "Early in the year it helps us a lot," referring to the team's full-court press. "That's why we always start so well. Teams just don't expect the press early in the season."

It is no longer early in the season, and Friday, Madison's press didn't look as strong as it did in previous games. Coach John Lawson of Cerro Gordo said, "I didn't think their press bothered us that much, except maybe in the fourth quarter. I think they have better success if they didn't use it all the time. We've had to work a lot against a press this year."

Graham doesn't agree with the analysis. He laid the blame on lack of desire. "I think our intensity in what was lacking," he said. "They adjusted to our press and we made poor defensive adjustments. We just played poorly."

Graham also pointed out that his team hasn't played since the Breese Mater Dei tournament, almost two weeks ago. Graham felt that this was the key to Madison's somewhat weak showing.

All this may seem academic, considering Madison won the game by 18 points, but the score wasn't that lopsided until the end.

Halfway through the fourth quarter, the Trojans were up by only two, 52-50. It was at this point that Cerro Gordo's forward Mike Meirs left the game with his fifth foul. Two minutes later the Trojans were ahead by eight.

Up to that point the game was close. Both teams were generous with turn-overs (29 for Cerro Gordo to 25 for Madison) so the offenses were at full-tilt most of the time. In the first quarter, the Trojans had the opportunities to make the game one-sided, but a dismal five of 17 shots went in, and Madison found themselves down 14-10.

"We had the opportunities," said Graham, "but we got a lot of short shots. We played terrible offense."

In the second quarter, Madison's scoring improved. By the end of the first half the Trojans built a 28-23 lead. One obvious problem for Madison was the uncharacteristic play of James Heard. The Trojans captain gave the ball away three times in the period. His reflexes looked like they were gone this game."

Graham said, "The layoff really hurt him. This was probably his worst game of the year."

Throughout the third quarter and through half of the fourth, Cerro Gordo stuck close to the Trojans. Both teams were in a double-elimination affair.

Madison's difficulty with Cerro Gordo comes as some surprise. Although, the Broncos brought a 7-4 record to the Madison gym, most of those wins have been over opponents of a considerably less reputation than the Trojans.

Dupo Invitational to start tonight

DUPO — Madison's basketball Trojans will compete in the Dupo Invitational tournament running through this week. The Trojans won the tournament last year beating Bethalto in the final. Earlier this year the Trojans finished fourth in the Mater

Dei Holiday Tournament.

In the opening game of the tournament tonight, Madison will meet Waterloo Gibault at 6:30. Following the completion of that game Civic Memorial of Bethalto will take on St. Henry of Belleville.

Tomorrow, Lovejoy and Country Day of St. Louis will meet at 6:30, followed by the game between Dupo and Columbia.

The tournament will continue through Friday night in the double-elimination affair.

West builds up early lead to down Warriors

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — The third time wasn't exactly the charm for Granite City Wrestling Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt.

He watched here Friday night as his make-shift lineup of Granite City South wrestlers was upset for the third straight year by a tough Belleville West squad, 26-25.

South was without the services of two key grapplers in the meet, Chris Collier at 90 pounds and Greg Garland at 105. Both are out with physical ailments.

The loss knocked South from the ranks of the unbeaten (the Warriors are now 11-1), while West runs its record to 13-0.

Saturday, however, South gained a little momentum back when it defeated Bethalto 57-6 in a home dual meet.

Meanwhile, on the other side of town, Granite City North's Steeler wrestlers downed Hazelwood East Friday 37-19.

WEST 26, SOUTH 25
Three individual and two team matches entered Friday's contest with perfect records, only two wrestlers and one team left that way. South didn't score its first points until the 112 pound bout (Rocky Lupardus).

"I have been saying West is tops all year long," said the Warrior's coach. "We got behind big and had to win the last three matches to win."

South won the last three battles, but lost the war by one team point, 26-25.

South had a handicap, however. Their regular 105 pounder Greg Garland was out of action with bronchitis. Garland has been working out over the weekend on his own and will try to start regular practices today.

It's becoming a tradition — this was the third year in a row that West had beaten the

"I guess it just wasn't in the books..."

Bill Schmitt

thus-far unbeaten Warriors in dual competition.

Rick Presswood, at 96 for South, lost a major decision to Steve Gauch 13-2. Next was the star of the West squad, David Harris at 105.

Harris added to his undefeated mark by pinning Rich Miller in the third period. Harris is now 16-0.

"I don't think that Garland would have beaten Harris if he was able to wrestle," commented Coach Schmitt, "but I don't think that Harris would have pinned Greg."

At 112 pounds, South came into action. Senior Rocky Lupardus put six points on the Warriors side by sticking Bob Dahm in 1:05.

Rodney Lupardus, Rocky's younger brother, lost a major decision 8-0, to Glen Heil at 119. At 126, Harry Harris lost to Mike Arnold 10-0 putting the team score at 14-10 in favor of West.

Phil Beljanski lost a squeaker to West's Rob Murn's in the 132 division. Beljanski got the original takedown but gave up three reversals before the match ended in favor of Murn, 6-4.

One of South's undefeated grapplers stayed that way. Sam Perkins at 138. Perkins fought John Bevenue and won 2-0. No original takedown was awarded and Perkins got his points with a reversal at the beginning of the second period. By this time, the team score showed South down by four, 17-13.

South's other unblemished wrestler lost the qualification after being beaten by Norm Dahm at 145. Dean Perkins was upset by Dahm 5-2. Ron Cline at 155 was pinned late in the second period by David Self of West, 3-38. Team score went to 26-13 West, with only three bouts left.

Jeff Bauman of West at 167 was taken victim of Scott Polson by a score of 9-3. Polson got four takedowns in that match. South reduced the deficit to 19, 26-16.

In order for South to win, it had to reach a superior decision (by 12 or more points) and a pin. To tie, the Warriors had to get two superiors or a pin and a major (by eight or more points).

At 185, South's Don King beat Dan Hammer, but only by three, 6-3, which clinched West's victory. And at 195, heavyweights, Scott pulled an upset as their Mark Seibert pinned Doug Matzenbacher with five seconds on the clock, 5:55, 26-25 West.

BETHALTO 6
The Civic Memorial Eagles received a forfeit in the 105 pound weight class which gave them six team points. That's all the team points they got.

South got six pins. They were by Rocky Lupardus at 112 over Shawn Searcy in 26 seconds. (That pin gave Lupardus 10 pins on the season). Forshae at 126, pinned Ed Hansen in 2:38; Sam Perkins in 3:26 pinned Scott Napier at 138; at 145, Dean Perkins pinned Mike Holman in 5:28; Polson in 2:30 pinned Shane Perrin in the 167 class; and Seibert at heavyweight beat Tim Lowrance in 1:27. That was Seibert's second pin of the weekend.

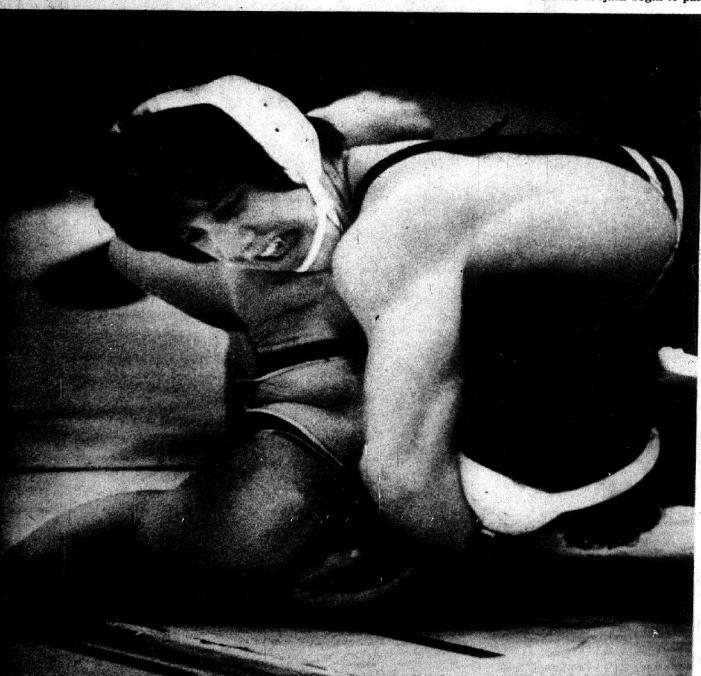

King at 185, received a forfeit and Mark Kristoff of the Eagles at 105 also got a forfeit.

Presswood at 96, outdid Brian Clardy of CM by a major decision, 9-1. Rodney Lupardus, 6-4, beat John Torrez at 119. Beljanski shutout Dave Endicott 4-0 in the 132 class and at 155, Drue Clement of South blanked John Butler 14-0.

South's record goes to 12-1, pinned duals and they are away both days this weekend. On Friday, they travel to Parkway for a 7 p.m. battle and Saturday, they go to Hazelwood Central for a quadrangular meet.

SOUTH'S PHIL BELJANSKI (top) grits his teeth during his bout Friday night against Belleville West's Rob Murn. Beljanski probably didn't grit enough... he was beaten by Murn 6-4. South dropped its first meet of the season to the Maroons 26-25 in Belleville. It marked the third straight year that both clubs had gone into the meet with undefeated records and the third year that West has edged South for the victory. South bounced back, however, Saturday, by trouncing hapless Bethalto 57-6.

Farrow destroys pro Buchholz in tourney

By NANCY WEIL
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Tennis pro Butch Buchholz flew in from Miami just in time for his match against SIUE's number one seed Juan Farrow in the St. Louis Tennis Pro versus the SIUE Tennis Team tournament at the posh Town and Country Racquet Club in St. Louis. Buchholz probably wishes that his flight had been delayed, he was defeated by Farrow, 6-1, 7-6, (5-4, tiebreaker).

Farrow, who played with quick precision, won the match on a beautiful ace, much to the surprise of many spectators, who cheered the spectacular serve long after it was gone. "He (Farrow) is just too good, he's incredible," observed one spectator. Farrow was not the only Cougar to fare well against the pros. His doubles partner, Arjun Fernando, defeated Tom Fluri, 6-2, 6-1. "Wow, these guys are really tough," said the same spectator. Jerry DeConey defeated Ralph Hart III, 6-3, 6-3. But the match of matches was watching SIUE's Raimo O'Jala defeat Jolito Ramirez. O'Jala was playing the match in a more secluded sector of the club, where few spectators were. Ramirez after losing the first set 6-4, took advantage of O'Jala's lack of crowd power defeating him in the second set 1-6. A disheartened O'Jala began to speak his native Finnish and with obvious exasperation, he whined as if he no longer wanted to play. Then, the quiet SIUE ace started to win the crowd and the match. With a few vocal Cougar fans cheering him on, he smiled his way through the tie breaker and won 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

In women's singles, Mary Ann Beatti, a St. Louis star of women's tennis defeated Lillian Almeida 2-6, 2-6. A resigned Almeida said after the match, "I made too many mistakes." Pat Ziegenfuss, ranked fifth in St. Louis singles, was defeated by Carol Aucamp 2-6, 1-6. "Z" looked tough as ever and gave Aucamp quite a match.

SIUE newcomer Gena Stuart of Chicago lost to Pat Burcell, 0-6, 1-6. In doubles, Farrow and Fernando defeated Bill Heinbecker and Jerry Johnson 6-3, 6-4. O'Jala and Ruskic defeated Paul Tobin and Fluri, 3-6, 7-6, 6-4. SIUE's Allan Miller and Ray Kazava lost 4-6, 4-6.

In mixed doubles competition, Gena Fluri and Barbara Berger defeated SIUE's Scott Whaley and Sue Crader 3-6, 2-6. Crader and Ziegenfuss are number two in doubles in St. Louis. Dick Salzenstein and Volavca defeated Cougars Farukh Siddigi and Stuart 3-6, 3-6.

Cougar kickers win

EDWARDSVILLE — Goals by Don Ebert and Bob Bozada paced the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team to a 2-0 victory Tuesday over the Santos Club of Jamaica. The game was played at Jamaica's Kingston Stadium.

The Santos Club, the soccer team which stunned the world of soccer in 1975 by defeating the New York Cosmos 1-0, with the mighty Pele in their lineup, is one of Jamaica's outstanding senior men's amateur teams.

A strike of the cab drivers on the island prevented the Cougars from playing the Jamaica Under 21 National Team, Friday.

EU wrestlers claim victory over Cougars

By KEVIN ALLEN
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The SIUE wrestling Cougars staged two almost identical performances Saturday as they lost to the Wildcats of the University of Kentucky and the Panthers of Eastern Illinois University in a triangular meet.

"The opening meet, Kentucky, after trailing the Cougars the entire meet, came from behind in the final match to defeat SIUE 23-21. Eastern also behind until the final, eked out a 29-23 win.

For the Cougars, the difference came from the results of just two weight divisions. In the 126-pound class Terry Mulrenin, after losing his first match to Kentucky's Eastern by six, following the Cougar forfeit, lost the heavyweight division. Some of the Cougars fared better on an individual basis. Tom Reed, Tim Ervin, Tim Napir, and Dru Meshes each defeated both their Kentucky and Eastern opponents. Meshes pinned both Tedd Houzel of Kentucky and Mike Reis of Eastern in the 150-pound weight class, and was the only Cougar to score two pins.

Three SIUE wrestlers fell into the loss column twice. Mike Lorentzen, Norm Mitchell and Conny Karlsson each were 0-2 for the day. Karlsson, just joining the team for Sweden, was probably not ready for competition, according to Kristoff. But the coach said he put Karlsson in the lineup in the hopes of giving the 167-pound Swede experience.

SIUE's strength looked to be in the lower weight classes. Only three of the Cougar's nine wins came from the bigger wrestlers.

But Kristoff said he thought that this was not typical for his team. "I don't think we're stronger in the lighter weights. We've got Hattendorf and Napier in the lower weights, and we might be getting some kids who will help us a lot in those weights soon."

The Cougars could have used some help in the heavyweight division Saturday, especially against Eastern's Dave Klemm. Mark Temple, SIUE's heavyweight, lost his match against Kentucky's Marques Johnson.

recorded the following victories by pin and fall: Miller (98 pounds) in 3:08, Bob Kirgan (112) in 1:08, Al Kirgan (126) in 1:53 and Mitch Steen (167) in three minutes and 47 seconds.

Other Steeler winners were Russ Grasso (105) 6-1, Brad Taylor (155) 12-9, and Mike Painter (185) 4-1.

Rich Ungar (119) lost 17-6, Greg Shemwell (132) lost 4-2.

Bruce Uzumoff (145) lost in 2:14 and heavyweight Brian Johnson lost in 5:20.

North's junior varsity also was sharp, defeating Hazelwood East 36-10.

Winners for North were Mike Robinson (98) in 2:54, Alan Huff (119) 7-5, Steve Gibson (126) in 6:12, Jim Heffell (132) in 1:13, Mark Smith (138) in 5:20, Bill Winter (145) 18-4 and Jack Rainey (155) in 1:40.

Cougars are thumped by ISUE, 102, 87

Special to the Press-Record
EVANSVILLE, Ind. — That second shot, by their opponents, did in the Cougars cagers of Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville here Saturday night as Coach Jim Hawken's team fell to Indiana State U. 102-87.

The Cougars, dropping to 4-10 on the season, performed well from the floor, hitting at .500 clip (38 of 76) and a game high by their ace point guard, Karl Feibels, 31 points. But, on their missed shots and those off the mark by the SIUE Screaming Eagles, you know, rebounds, the Cougars were sadly lacking. The winners, led by Emmanuel Moses, 19 points, and Hawken, 14, came to 44 by the Cougars. Lawrence (Low Town) Brown of SIUE also garnered in 11 rebounds. The winners hit 42 of 81 from the field.

As usual, the game was actually decided at the charity line. The Eagles made good 18 of 28 shots, while the Cougars hit 11 of 18.

SIUE had six players in double figures — John Alexander 18, Brad Bolling 14, John Brown 10, Cortez Collins 16, Rick Kissel 10, and Emanuel Bowser 12. Only three SIUE shooters had that kind of production: Peebles' 31, plus 13 by Jerome Nelson and 13 by Bennie Lewis. In Peebles' game high 31 points, most of which were from at least 30 feet. Shemwell, who had 11, Brad Taylor (155) 12-9, and Mike Painter (185) 4-1.

Rich Ungar (119) lost 17-6, Greg Shemwell (132) lost 4-2.

Three of the six Granite City boys who advanced to district Elks "hoop shoot" competition Saturday at Carlinville won their events. For 10 weeks, with a cost of $12.50 per child, the remaining costs to be provided by community clubs and organizations. The program includes 10 weeks of coaching and games, T-shirts, instructional materials and a final celebration.

Registration will be held for residents of the Madison County Housing Authority who wish to participate in the YBP program. The program is for children, grades 3-6. Registration will be held at Dunbar School, Tuesday, Jan. 16, 4-6 p.m. There will be a cost of $5 per child.

The YMCA is also forming a basketball league for boys and girls in the 7th, 8th, and 9th grades. Play will begin Saturday, Jan. 13, and continue for 10 weeks. Girls will play from 9:10-10 a.m. and boys from 10:30-12 a.m.

Venice strides toward respectability, 72-54

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record
VENICE — Respectability.

It's something Ken Perkins and his Venice basketball team are fighting for. It's also something which Venice had lost over the last two seasons.

The former (1975) state Class A state champions had become a pushover to other teams. Coaches who once shuddered at the thought of having to face the Red Devils began laughing at the thought instead. Venice went from state champion to 1-21 in less than two seasons. A real riches-to-rags story.

But things are changing. Perkins watched on here Friday night as his Venice team clobbered Livingston 72-54 enroute to its sixth victory in its last seven games to raise its record to 6-7. Included in that victory skin are wins over highly-touted Lebanon and Chester.

"I think we're starting to raise a few people's eyebrows," said Perkins. "I mean, after tonight we're just a game away from 500."

People aren't taking us too lightly any more."

"I know it looks good on paper for a 5-7 team to beat a 9-2 one, but when they (Livingston) were playing lesser teams, we were playing teams like Vashon and Sumner from St. Louis and Madison."

Perkins was trying to downplay his team's 18-point bulge over Livingston. "Our defense wasn't really very good," he said. "In fact when it was close there in the first half, we almost let the flow of the game get away from us."

"But we caused some turnovers and we made some important baskets to keep things going our way."

The first half was physical.

Very physical. Not so much because of what Venice was doing, but what Livingston was doing. Even though they were being out-finessed, the Eagles weren't being out-hustled. "They are a scrappy bunch," said Perkins. "They made us do some things we didn't want to do... like commit turnovers."

Despite all the words from Perkins, Venice went into the locker room at halftime with a 54-47 lead. "We hadn't been playing well at all and the guys on the team knew it," said Perkins.

"Especially Donald Gardner (6'1" forward).

"The team sort of looks up to him as a leader. He took it upon himself in the second half to go out and do something about it. When the other guys saw it, they started in too."

Perkins' unit operated the entire first half without the services of guard Reggie Mathis. He was benched by Perkins because of a disciplinary action. But he started the second half and made his presence felt.

"Reggie completed our starting unit," said Perkins. "I think one of the main reasons we didn't look too good in the first half was that Reggie wasn't in there."

"But with him in the game, we started to look more like a team. Livingston didn't look as much trouble as they did in the first half."

Despite the fact that Venice had things its own way for the most part in the second half, the Red Devils still did not control the rebounding department.

"We didn't hit the boards well at all," said Perkins. "We've got to get some more strength on the boards if we're going to consistently beat the better teams."

That rebounding relief may be spelled S-a-l-m-o-n-d. Stringman Ron Salmond, ineligible for the first semester because of poor grades, will be ready and able to play his first basketball game of the season Saturday night in Venice against Vashon High of St. Louis.

A 6'5" jumping jack, Salmond played last season at Lovejoy High in Brooklyn before transferring to Venice early this school year. He played at Venice his freshman and sophomore years.

According to Perkins, Salmond probably won't see starting action right off the bat. "He's going to help in a lot of areas," said Perkins. "But he's not in game-ready condition right now. I'm going to sort of ease him into it a little at a time."

"Besides, the unit we're starting right now is doing a good job. Salmond's going to have to earn a starting position like everyone else."

North cagers demolish Breese Central by 21

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's basketball team won their second consecutive game here Friday night when they walked all over hapless Breese (Aviston) Central 75-54.

Mother Nature was the winner Saturday night. North's scheduled game at Edwardsville was postponed because of snow.

"The boys did a good job tonight," said North Coach Bill Ohlendorf. "All it takes is a little confidence and hard work."

As a matter of fact, it took also about a quarter and a half for North to decide things early. The Steelers jumped out in front of the Cougars with a strong second quarter to claim a 39-24 halftime lead.

The first period wasn't all that lopsided, however. Central bothered the Steelers with its press and trailed by only one at the first stop. "Oh, we had a little trouble getting the ball up the floor," said Ohlendorf. "But we worked it during the timeout and seemed to correct it."

Dennis Page, as usual, was the big gun for North. He took advantage of several nifty assists from his teammates and turned them into 26 Steeler points. Russ Chappel was next-high for North with 11 points.

What does a coach tell a team which has a 15-point lead at halftime? "I told them not to let it go to their heads," said Ohlendorf. "I told them that concentration was very important. We had to go out there the second half with the attitude that the game was starting all over."

If that were actually the case, then, North won that "second" game by six points. Central played the Steelers almost even basketball in the third period, but couldn't catch up in the fourth.

"We sort of expected

Central to be a little tougher," said Ohlendorf. "We didn't have them scared, but they gave Okawville a tough game and only lost by six. Okawville blew us out, so I guess we thought they'd be a little harder to handle."

North, therefore, claimed its second victory in its last two games and perhaps has mounted the needed combination of momentum and skill (plus a little luck) it takes to come up with a consistent winner in prep sports.

However, that momentum took a spill of sorts Saturday night. North was scheduled to have played at Edwardsville. But because of snow and icy road conditions, the game was postponed.

We talked to them (Edwardsville officials) about 4:45 and they said it was too bad to try and get up there in their school and risk someone having an accident going to or from the game."

said Ohlendorf. "We'll try and get together with them Monday and reschedule the game."

Edwardsville was also looking for a little momentum. The Tigers had (Friday) come off an excellent game against Collinsville, falling in the final minutes 72-70.

The next regularly-scheduled game for North will be this Friday against cross-town rival Granite City South at Memorial Gymnasium. The junior varsity game is set for 6:30 p.m. with the varsity to follow immediately after.

Garcia named legislative aide to McPike

State Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton) announced Friday the appointment of Joe Garcia as legislative aide from Nameoki Township. The appointment is for two years to coincide with the term of office of the 81st General Assembly.

Garcia, precinct committeeman for Nameoki Precinct 3, lives with his wife Olga at 2244 Miracle in Nameoki. He is an employee of Granite City School District 9 and currently works at Granite City North. The Garcia's have one son, Joseph Jr., who is a volunteer police officer in the Township.

Rep. McPike said, "Joe Garcia is well known and greatly respected in his precinct and has friends throughout Nameoki Township. He will be a tremendous asset in helping me stay in touch with the constituents of the 56th district."

Seven charged in illegal card game

Seven persons, including Harold D. Allen, 2811 Herbert St., have been charged in connection with an alleged illegal card game discovered accidentally by Edwardsville police inside Rusty's Restaurant, 1201 N. Main St., Edwardsville at 4 a.m. Friday.

Officers responded to a report of a burglary in progress and found the outside doors unlocked. Police entered with drawn revolvers and heard talking in one of the banquet rooms, it was reported.

They entered the room, startling eight men, including six who allegedly were seated at a table, playing cards. Officers said there was $730 in cash on the table, including a "pot" of $443. Some of the men grabbed for the pot when they realized the men entering with guns drawn were police and not robbers.

One man allegedly told police he rented the room from "Louie" and said the owner was going to be mad. Among those charged by police is Louis Badamenti of Edwardsville, owner of the restaurant, although he was not present when the game was discovered. Badamenti is charged with keeping a gambling place and with violating the Edwardsville liquor control ordinance.

Police said two men in the room who did not appear to be gambling have been released without charges, including one Granite City man.

Charged with gambling were Allen, James Hawkins of Collinsville, Jerry L. Millano of Hillsboro, Nick H. Arger of Jerseyville, Rick J. Wicks of Belleville and Robert Underwood of East Alton.

It was reported that one man who said he had just won the pot when officers entered complained, saying he had just been run out of bad all year. Another man was quoted as saying, "Well, at least now my wife will believe I haven't been out fooling around."

News notes

The Illinois State Board of Education has decided to request $2.1 billion for elementary and secondary education in Illinois during fiscal year 1980. The recommended budget represents a $171 million increase—or 8.8 percent over present state spending. The largest share of the budget—$1.42 billion—is earmarked for direct aid to school districts.

Bad weather conditions over the past few weeks apparently have kept some Belleville Area College residents from registering. As a result, late fees will be waived for those registering from today through Jan. 19. Registration on the main campus will be from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today through Thursday and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday.

Bi-State Development Agency expects to receive about $2.6 million from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration by late February. The funds are to supplement a previously received grant of $11.9 million for operating expenses in 1978 which ended June 30. At the end of fiscal 1978, expenses exceeded the projected operating budget, therefore qualifying the agency for the additional grant.

Robert Walters of Alton, former state representative of the 56th Legislative District, has been appointed executive director of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association.

March 1 is an important date for farmers who were unable to meet today's (Jan. 15) deadline for filing estimated tax declarations with the Illinois Department of Revenue. Farmers can avoid penalties by filing a state income tax return, IL-1040, together with a form IL-2210-F, and paying all taxes by March 1.

transporting, housing and feeding the many witnesses who may testify.

"Personally, I prefer Springfield, but I would like to accommodate the attorneys for the defendants. If any one of the attorneys insist on Alton, we will have it in Alton," Judge Ackerman stated, noting time is important, since potential witnesses must be called for jury duty.

At a private conference at the judge's bench, the possibility of moving the trial to St. Louis was mentioned and Ackerman then announced publicly that he would investigate before today's conference call whether or not a trial in St. Louis is possible.

Cook and Runge both stated their clients preferred Alton and felt a jury could be selected which would be fair. Cook later said he has been surprised in previous cases how many potential jurors do not feel prejudiced by pre-trial publicity.

"You may run into a situation where it is impossible to pick a fair jury in Madison County, then the trial would have to be moved, but I doubt it," Cook later told newsmen.

Costello said he hoped his request for a change of venue to Springfield would remain active, particularly if the judge should decide to sever Stoller from the other defendants in the case.

The defense attorneys objected to several statements and items of evidence which had not been turned over to them by the government and a change of venue, they said, entitle them to see statements made by potential witnesses to the FBI, the IRS and other governmental entities.

The government prosecutors, U.S. Attorney Gerald Finnes and Assistant U.S. Attorney John Carver, agreed to following this weekend's snow, plunging temperatures to sub-zero marks. High winds added to the problem, creating a windchill factor of 37 below zero early Sunday morning.

While the mercury climbed to a high of 15 above on Sunday, it fell last night to 9 below zero. A light wind, however, resulted in a windchill factor early today of 11 below zero.

The cold weather caused difficulty in starting motor vehicles. City street crews in Granite City and Madison worked into the night hours Saturday and early Sunday to spread salt and sand to and to plow drifted areas on roadways.

The extreme cold made salt ineffective and many intersections were extremely slippery and hazardous.

One traffic fatality occurred in the Quad-City area early Saturday morning, resulting from snow and ice already on the highway from previous storms.

A 19-year-old Pocatemo woman was struck and killed as she crossed Route 200 near Howland to get help after her car had skidded off the highway into a ditch.

Saturday's storm moved into this area from Kansas where it created blizzard conditions. Chicago suffered another blizzard-like storm, leaving 20 inches of snow on the ground after the storm passed.

The fog Saturday closed down Lambert Airport in St. Louis. Even after the airport reopened, many airlines cancelled flights because of weather conditions here and elsewhere.

While some spotty power outages were reported in the region during the weekend, there were no major problems that were not corrected provide all of Burns' statements to the defense attorneys.

In demanding the documents, Cook stated, "We know about Burns. We know he is going to be a witness. We know you've made a deal with him." Judge Ackerman said he had received a recommended sentence of six months in prison and four and one-half years of probation on Burns, but probably will not sentence him until after the Maeras, Cooper and Stoller trial.

The judge also warned the government attorneys against taking too long in turning over the required documents to the defense. "If the government waits until the eve of the trial and then you (the defense attorneys) say you didn't have enough time, I will be receptive to that."

Costello also demanded copies of all agreements made by government witnesses with the prosecutors and Runge said he would like to know the status with the Internal Revenue Service of all potential witnesses who have testified or will testify to having received illegal kickbacks or other illegal income.

He named one former operator of a house of prostitution and said he has learned she "has a substantial liability and others have told me the government has forgiven her. We would like copies of these agreements," Runge said.

He also contended, "The U.S. Department of Justice and Department of Revenue play a little game. Each takes care of certain matters, but the witness takes the stand relying that both arms have all the information, in the possession of the government. The whole government."

Cook said he has certain evidence which would be favorable toward Stoller, but said he did not want to disclose the evidence to government prosecutors, at this time. He suggested the defense attorneys be allowed to meet privately with the judge to introduce the evidence, but Judge Ackerman denied the request, saying he did not feel it proper to start meeting with one side in the case without informing the other side what had transpired.

Referring to Maeras, Cook then said, "My client may have some testimony that would tend to (clear) Mr. Stoller." Later he stated, "My client would be a favorable witness to Mr. Costello, but I'm not going to tell the government what my client will testify to, or even if he will testify."

Costello offered to put Stoller on the witness stand to testify that he does not feel he can have a fair trial in Madison County, but the government stipulated as to Stoller's feelings, so he was not called to the stand.

There were no attempts to put either Maeras or Cooper on the stand or bring them into the courtroom for the hearing, although both had been seen in the courthouse prior to the start of the hearing.

Costello introduced folders of newspaper clippings from six area newspapers, including the Press-Record, into evidence as support for his contention that the trial has attracted considerable media attention. Judge Ackerman agreed the issue has had extensive news coverage, but again said that if any of the clients wanted the trial to remain in Alton, it probably would.

Costello asked for all evidence the government has collected through electronic surveillance and was told there was none conducted by government investigators.

The only electronically-gathered evidence which might be referred to during the trial was a tape recording between Grzywacz and the late prostitution house operator Walter Young, which the defense attorneys already have, and a tape recording made between two potential witnesses, Carver said, indicating a copy of the second tape will be furnished to the defense.

Judge Ackerman also ruled on a motion by Costello for a continuance in the starting date of the trial, stating, "Gentlemen, I don't believe I can grant a continuance, so I'll deny that."

The National Weather Service said this morning that a high in the teens is expected today, with a chance of snow Tuesday, and again Wednesday.

Weather forecasters said only flurries are anticipated and that any accumulation would not exceed one inch. The low temperature tonight is expected to range from 10 to 15 degrees above zero, but is expected to rise into the 20s tomorrow. A high of 35 to 30 is expected by Wednesday, the weather service said.

Granite City schools opened for regular class periods this morning, although buses were not operating on three routes—Chouteau Slough Road, Cemetery Road and Sand Prairie Lane. Venice and Malden schools were closed today in observance of Martin Luther King Day.

Hopes to deter globe-trotters

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Clipping the wings of globe-hopping congressmen who travel at taxpayers' expense with little purpose except entertainment is one of the 1979 goals of Rep. Tom Corcoran, R-Delaware.

Corcoran who brings these Marco policies closer to home through the simple expedient of public exposure.

Currently, a congressman bitten by the travel bug needs only the approval of the chairman of the committee or subcommittee sponsoring the trip.

Corcoran would change the House rules to require that all travel be approved by the full committee at an open meeting, with any member able to call for a public record vote on the trip.

A congressman would have to say beforehand what he expects the trip to cost in and to accomplish. When he returns, he would have to report the actual costs, what was done and what was learned. Both reports would be public.

Corcoran's idea is aimed with at congressmen who abuse travel privileges and those who do not travel but wink at the abuses.

A committee member who did not take a junket but did not oppose it could be held accountable, Corcoran noted.

Constituents, campaign opponents and the news media could go to a committee member and ask why he did not protest when congressmen Freeland got the committee's blessing to go to Hawaii to check on the length of grass skirts.

Accommodating accomplices could be as subject to public scrutiny as the joy-bent junketers.

Corcoran is not opposed to all travel, only the trips that are for entertainment.

The absence of purpose for some of the trips was driven home by Corcoran during the Easter, 1977, congressional recess when a post office and civil service committee staffer asked him if he wanted to go to Europe.

"I told him my schedule was full, but I wanted to know what the purpose of the trip was," Corcoran recounted.

"He said he would have to get back to me, adding it was the first time anybody had asked him that."

"The purpose of the trip? They wanted to look at mail handling procedures in Portugal or some damn thing."

Corcoran made a stab at curbing the junketers last summer. He rounded up 25 co-sponsors for his rule change, but it was a little late, too late effort, and his bill was bottled up in the rules committee.

This time he is more hopeful. He said he will offer it early, though there is a more conservative mood in congress and views the new chairman, Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., as more reform-minded than his predecessor.

Even if it does not become a part of the overall House rules, individual committees could incorporate the idea in their own rules, Corcoran said.

He plans to advance the proposal in the two committees to which he serves, Government Operations and Post Office and Civil Service.

Co-incidentally, the ranking Republican on the Post Office committee, Ed Derwinski of Bloomington, is one of the leading congressional travelers.

Derwinski made four overseas trips at taxpayer's expense in 1977, a record matched or surpassed by only 18 of the 435 representatives, according to a study published last year by "Congressional Quarterly," an independent publication.

Corcoran thinks Derwinski may be sympathetic to at least discussing the idea because he has been "very open" about his travels.

"I do not think Ed ever made a trip that he did not think was legitimate," Corcoran said defensively.

Derwinski is not the only Illinois Globe-Trotter.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Pittsfield, who ranks third (just below Derwinski) on the International Relations committee, traveled to Europe, South America and the Middle East in 1977, all three trips at government expense.

Rep. John Anderson of Rockford, number two Republican on the rules committee, made three trips abroad at the expense of private groups for meetings in Japan, Indonesia and the Middle East.

As a group, 255 members of congress took 415 trips overseas at a cost of $2.7 million in 1977, up about $300,000 from the previous year, according to Congressional Quarterly.

And congressional supporters of junkets no longer can assert they are the only branch being asked to set an example by curbing travel.

President Carter has directed the executive branch to cut $50 million to $75 million from the $3 billion a year spent on foreign and domestic travel.

It is like the late Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, R-Ill., once said:

"Out a few million dollars here and a few million dollars there, and pretty soon you are talking about real money."

Purchasing workshops scheduled by state

Department of Local Government Affairs Acting Director J. Thomas Johnson today announced a workshop on "Purchasing for Small Local Governments" will be held Wednesday, Jan. 17, in Collinsville, at the Holiday Inn.

The one-day workshop is open to all local officials in the southwestern Illinois area.

"In the past," said Johnson, "small municipalities, townships, special districts, and rural counties have sought assistance in improving their purchasing procedures, policies, and information resources. Elected officials have expressed frustration at the lack of control they have over the efficiency of their purchasing unit's operation."

"This workshop is designed specifically to address the above stated concerns and to offer improved methods for purchasing in the areas of centralized procedures, better marketing information, cooperative and sharing arrangements, innovative policies on replacement life-style costing and other constructive alternatives."

The workshop is being States.

offered by the Department of Local Government Affairs free of charge through funding from the intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1970.

The workshop, scheduled from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., is the first in a series to be held at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. Additional workshops will be held on the following topics:

Jan. 30, Budgeting for Townships and Road Districts; March 14, Risk Management-Insurance; April 25, Collective Bargaining-Labor Relations for the Public Sector.

Minnie Greathouse weds Howard Hickman

Mrs. Minnie B. Greathouse became the bride of Howard H. Hickman in a candlelight setting on Jan. 6 at Doney Avenue United Methodist Church.

Rev. Eugene Beasley officiated at the double-ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The parents of the bride are deceased. The groom is the son of Mrs. Minnie Hickman, 2013 Bryan Ave.

Wedding music was provided by the minister's wife. She played "The Wedding March" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her son, Jerry Greathouse, the former Mrs. Greathouse wore a formal-length, champagne-colored quiana and knitted gown fashioned with a draped bodice, long fitted sleeves and was belted at the waist.

Her matching shoulder-length veil was adorned with orange satin roses and white baby's breath. She carried a bouquet of orange satin roses.

Honor attendant was Mrs. Betty Streckoff. She wore a pink and beige formal-length chiffon dress, designed with a softly draped tiered bodice and skirt, with cape sleeves. Her bouquet was made of pink satin roses and white baby's breath.

The groom chose Mel Streckoff as best man.

A reception was held at Charlie's Restaurant for the wedding guests. After the wedding trip to Springfield, Mo., the couple will reside at 2504 Poplar Ave.

The bride was born and reared in Granite City. She formerly owned a restaurant and beauty shop retiring in April. The groom is employed at Nesco Steel in Granite City.

Women of Moose plan annual ball

Women of the Moose held a child care Chapter Night, chaired by Mrs. Mary Adams, last week. Mrs. Adams introduced her committee to the chapter members, and they were then given the chapter honors.

Queen of Hearts Chairwoman, Mrs. Rosella Mead, gave a report on the annual Queen of Hearts Ball, to be held Saturday, Feb. 10.

Lunch was served to 18 co-workers by the child care committee, and several prizes were awarded during the social hour.

Self denial program for Methodist Women

Mrs. Jean Martin gave a call to prayer and self denial program for the United Methodist Women's group at a meeting last week at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

The women in attendance agreed to fast for the remainder of the day and to offer prayer on an individual basis.

Donations offered that day were allocated to local and foreign missions.

Mrs. Fran Holt provided the accompaniment at the piano for several hymns. Prayers were heard and members gave personal testimony.

Mrs. Helene Bischoff, president, led the business session.

Preliminary plans were made for the World Day of Prayer, scheduled March 2 at the Nameoki Church, under sponsorship of Church Women United.

Mrs. Corinne Dawson displayed a "thank you" note from the Lessie Bates Neighborhood House, acknowledging paper products donated by the women's group.

Others at the meeting were Dorothy Ashford, Norma Rains, Penny Kessler, Luan Briner, Ruth Hancock, Alta Stewart, Dorothy Luckert, Dorothy Wallace and Reba Forsyth.

Pi Eta Chapter plans events

The Pi Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Mrs. Betty Beck last week.

Communications from International were read by Mrs. Waneta Graham, president. She also gave a City Council report. Discussion followed concerning the Sweetheart Dance which is to be held at Lewis and Clark Restaurant Feb. 17. Proceeds from the dance will go to charity.

Final plans were approved concerning the sweetheart court, which includes a Sweetheart representative from each of the Beta Sigma Chapters in Granite City.

Committee reports included one on the Chapter Christmas party which was held Dec. 20 at La Rocca's Restaurant in St. Louis. Mrs. Beck gave the service committee report.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Kathy Welch, Mrs. Donna Velling and Mrs. Janice Noland. The next meeting will be held Jan. 22 at the home of Mrs. Welch. A potluck will be held for members and their guests.

School conducting collection drive

Frohhardt School is in the midst of a special collection drive aimed at obtaining audiovisual and athletic equipment, reference books, and teaching aids. The program - Labels For Education - is being sponsored by Campbell Soup Co.

"Between now and Feb. 23, we hope to collect 10,000 labels from Campbell's Products to earn a projector and a cassette player," John Fuhrman, PTA president said. "Our students have saved approximately 7,000 labels and they would appreciate it if friends of the school also would save labels for them."

Any Campbell soup labels found in the drive. More than 300 audio-visual and athletic pieces of equipment, reference books, and teaching aids are being offered. A participating school sends in the assigned number of labels for the particular items selected. The more labels collected, the more, or better, equipment can be redeemed for the school, it was noted.

Future secretaries hear talk

The Madison Chapter of Future Secretaries recently held its regular monthly meeting in the typing room at Madison High School.

The meeting was called to order by the chapter president, Tammy Lynn, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Donna Crook and approved by the membership.

After a brief discussion on a fund-raising activity for the month of February, the chapter vice-president, Cheryl Finch, introduced Gerald Groves, a representative from IBM. His topic for discussion was, "The Business Office of the Future."

Groves made many interesting comments about the rapid changes that are taking place in the business office of today. He commented on the changes in business equipment that his company and other companies are making.

His company operates continuous classes to help the secretary adjust to the operation of new equipment that is being placed in the business office of today.

Mrs. Helen Gieselman, a member of the Tri-Chapter of National Secretaries Association, was in attendance at the meeting.

Exchange student enjoys American way of life

Mickey is a typical teenager. She likes rock music and hates to do dishes. She might be said to be a year average American 17-year-old, except for the fact that Michaela Stoeckl is most comfortable speaking German.

The young lady is a foreign exchange student, being sponsored by the Granite City Rotary Club. Her parents live in Hamburg, West Germany. The "Americanization of Mickey" is taking place in the Joe Papa home, 2331 Shirlene Drive.

The Papa family is a very typical American family. Mom and Dad, daughters Jennifer, 14 and Rebecca, 8, and son Joe, 10, make up this very active family. Mickey joined the family in August and after a little shuffling for bedroom space, fit right in.

"Mrs. Papa said she worried at first if the teenager from Germany would be upset by the mobility of her active family," Mickey told me that her family was just as active," she said. "I quit worrying about it after that."

The Papas wondered if having another teenage girl in the house would change their lifestyle any. "The idea of having two teenagers in the house was a bit of a worry," said Mr. Papa, "but Mickey and Jennifer get along better than most sisters and both seem to be enjoying the experience."

Mickey had an advantage over many American foreign exchange students in that she had four years of English under her belt when she arrived in the States. "English is a required subject in my school in Germany," Mickey said. "At first I had a little trouble because I would translate from German to English in my mind. Now I am able to think in English."

School is different for the young German lady, it is easier here. "In Germany I take 15 subjects," she said, "but here I have only six. I will not take back enough credits so I will have to take the eleventh grade over again when I get home."

"It doesn't bother me that I will have to repeat the eleventh grade," she continued, "My parents have moved since my coming to America, so I will have to make all new friends anyway. Besides, I wouldn't have missed being here for anything. I am having a great time."

Mickey is attending Granite City High School-North this year and likes it very much. "The school spirit here is terrific," she said, "Everyone is interested in all of the sports activities. In Germany we have no high school teams. People who participate in sports do so through private clubs. We go home from school at one o'clock, to study and be with friends."

She finds it a little strange that students change classes every hour. "In Germany, the students stay in one classroom, the teachers change rooms."

A big part of Mickey's stay in this country has been to experience America. "I want to see as much as I can so that I can tell my friends in Germany what the States are like."

The Granite City Rotary Club, who is responsible for Mickey being here, is seeing to it that she has a good time. The members and their families have taken her many places during the time that she has been here.

She has visited the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Checkerdome.

She has seen Our Lady of the Snows and Chicago. She has visited the Rotary Clubs in Granite City, Highland, Virden, Madison, Venice and Springfield.

Mickey has been kept pretty busy, with little time to get bored or homesick. The Rotary has seen to it that she is able to call home several times.

She has enjoyed many of the Rotary activities, including an action at Sunset Hills Country Club, a wine and cheese party and the Christmas.

Last Tuesday she attended the Granite City Rotary Club meeting for a special occasion, her birthday. The young girl enjoyed lunch and three birthday cakes.

Through all of the activities, Mickey has also enjoyed the Papa family. "They have been good to me," she said, "They made me feel right at home."

Being a foreign exchange student has been and will continue to be a lot of fun for Mickey. She used the following words, in her native tongue, to explain.

"Amerika ist ein Land, Das einen Aufenthalt Wert ist. Ich bin glücklich hier ein Jahr zu verbringen und all die viel neuen Menschen zu treffen und Gelegenheit zu interessanter Besichtigungen zu bekommen."

TONGUE TWISTER

THIS PUZZLE CONSISTS OF TWO SCRAMBLED CHALLENGES:

1. SEE HOW MANY DIFFERENT WORDS YOU CAN UNSCRAMBLE FROM THE LETTERS AT LEFT.

2. SEE HOW MANY OF THESE WORDS YOU CAN TRACE WITH A CONTINUOUS LINE.

EACH TRACING MUST BEGIN AT THE BLACK SPOT. NO PASSAGE OR INTERSECTION MAY BE USED MORE THAN ONCE PER WORD.

Avoiding stress

By WILLIAM J. GOLDWAG, M.D.

Q. How can I stay healthy? I confess, this is a put-up question. I am asking myself to see if there is something basic beyond the usual prescriptions of diet, exercise and other rules for "healthy" living.

We have heard more and more that a major factor in illness is stress. Well then, let's look at stress and see there is anything to be done about it.

If everything happened the way I would like and others acted the way I would like them to, wouldn't my life be free of stress? If my life were free of stress, wouldn't I then be healthy?

It does seem that much of our activity is directed toward getting others to do and say what we would like, and getting the things that we believe will bring us happiness, contentment, joy, love and so forth. If there is a fallacy in all this somewhere, we'd better find out, because lots of us are getting very ill pursuing this path.

We need to start somewhere, so let's first take a look at what we have versus what we are looking for, struggling for, fighting for and getting constantly frustrated in the attempt. At the same time as we take stock of what we have, let's also assign some value to it so we can know where we stand.

What is the one basic thing that you have? If you are reading this article, you must have life. So, I think you'll agree you have life. Now what value can we put on your life? This can certainly vary a great deal.

Ask a millionaire dying of a sudden heart attack in the middle of a big deal he was working on, how much he would give of his money for a little more life. Ask the person about to jump off a bridge how much he would give for some more life. You'd get two rather different answers in those examples. Since we've probably never gotten agreement on the exact monetary value of life, let's look at it a different way.

Why not evaluate your life in terms of what percentage it is of what you want? Since most of what you want requires you to have life to know it and to enjoy it, your life must constitute a pretty big percentage of what you want. Would 90 percent be a fair figure to use? Let's assume it is.

Go down the list a little ways. Can you see, hear, taste, feel? What are they worth? Don't take my word for it. Ask the person who has lost it. Ask them to put some kind of value on that function. In fact, ask a blind person how much his hearing is worth to him, or a deaf person how important is his vision.

They have learned to value more what is left than perhaps you or I who still have these senses. Well, let's be very conservative and give them a 1 percent.

So you have adequate food and shelter? Sure, you could have a bigger house and fancier dishes to eat, but is your adequate? Would a starving or homeless person be content with what you have? Chalk up another 1 percent.

Can you make a living? Enough to provide at least the minimum necessities, and keep you busy a bit of the time? Another 1 percent.

What are your friends worth to you? Another 1 percent or only 5 percent? Go down the list a little further and you'll discover you're running out of percentages. That means that you have to go back and readjust your figures. But, how can you?

You really can't reduce your life value by much since the value of the others depend on it. Well, would it be fair to say that you end up having at least 95 percent of your preferences all the time?

That's what you spend your time struggling for, hoping for, wishing for and being upset about if you don't get it. What is it that the world and its people spend most of their time and effort thinking about? Isn't it that 5 percent that seems so important to us? What would happen if everyone paid all that attention to being aware of the 95 percent that they have already? Furthermore, in most cases, that 95 percent was given to them — free! It was all provided when they arrived in this world, with no strings attached. It even came with two "slaves" who seemed ready to do anything to make the new arrival comfortable and content.

This seems to be the time of year when such reflections are in order. It's not far-fetched to suggest that we spend a lot more time considering that 95-plus percent that we have and being very thankful and grateful for these gifts. When we do this, what happens to the other 5 percent or so? Try it and find out. It doesn't seem quite as important as it did before, does it?

What do you suppose happens to your stress levels during this process? Again, try it and find out. Do you suddenly find out that a sense of joy overtakes you, a kind of peaceful feeling, a contentment? Whatever ailments or complaints you had before are a little less bothersome. Now do you suppose you could go through this procedure a little more often? How about every day, maybe for just a few minutes, or maybe more? Do you suppose you would be healthier? Try it.

Call SIUE budget cut 'devastating'

The Faculty Organization for Collective Bargaining at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville said last week that the IBHE recommendations for a $720,000 cut in the SIUE base budget would be "devastating" to the University.

The IBHE (Illinois Board of Higher Education), in recommending operating budgets for next year (FY 80), tabulated instructional costs in Illinois institutions and found that some were "overfunded" compared to others. Their calculations indicated that SIUE was overfunded by about 3.6 million dollars.

The IBHE staff recommended cuts in the base budget for the University amounting to 20 percent of that total or about $720,000. Thus, even though the University may get more money if the legislature and the governor approve the IBHE recommendations, it will have to find $720,000 to fund pay increases, cost increases, and new programs.

Calling the cuts "abhorrent," Rosanda Richards, president of the FOCB, stated, "It's simply unacceptable for us to expect us to make these kinds of enormous adjustments in one year. The implication in their method is also that this may happen for the next five years and repeated action of this type would completely destroy SIUE."

"We've been told over and over by the president and the vice president and proved that SIUE has good relations with the IBHE. If the staff of IBHE are our 'friends,' we would hate to see what our enemies would do to us."

George Henderson, former FOCB president, said, "We've been aware of SIUE's high administrative costs for many years and the FOCB has issued numerous public complaints about them dating back to 1973. On the other hand, our direct instruction and department research costs are relatively low."

"The present administration has done nothing to correct this situation and, in fact, has continued to build a bureaucratic empire after publicly pledging it would reduce administrative costs."

"Now the faculty, staff, and students are being asked to pay the price of these excesses. We hope the public will support the faculty in our effort to get these administrative costs under control; they are an enormous waste of the taxpayers' money."

John Ellsworth, FOCB president-elect, former University administrator, and chairman of a special Faculty Senate committee to develop a salary policy for the University, indicated that one of the ironies in these cuts is that faculty salaries at SIUE are relatively low.

"Even the IBHE, which develops its own comparison group of institutions, shows that salaries at SIUE for the senior ranks are low compared to institutions such as Illinois State, SIUC, Northern, and Chicago Circle."

"If we are overfunded and we have low salaries this indicates that the money is going somewhere other than into teaching."

"Ellsworth, who has met with considerable administrative delay in establishing a stepped salary plan, indicated that the Faculty Senate plan would enable SIUE to manage its internal affairs better and assure that no more money flows into administrative areas from faculty salaries."

Ellsworth also indicated that the work of the University Senate Budget Review Committee would take on special significance now.

He said, "In his message to the Board of Trustees, President Shaw indicated that $600,000 was reallocated last year — most of it going from high cost areas to low cost areas. We don't see evidence that that has occurred and apparently very few dollars have gone back into direct instruction, a low cost area in the institution. In addition, very little money has been used to improve our salaries by bringing them into line with our comparison group, they say, that there is no more money."

The FOCB has repeatedly made suggestions for "belt-tightening" in administrative costs to improve faculty salaries. The administration responds that it is impossible to find the money. Now the IBHE recommends a devastating base budget cut and President Shaw seems prepared to acquiesce. "It is particularly important now to see that the bulk of these base budget cuts come from administrative areas that do not directly impact on the faculty and students. If this does not happen, faculty will be demoralized and become even more cynical about the operation of the University," Ellsworth concluded.

The FOCB pledged to fight the base budget cuts in the legislature and to work with the governor to restore the cuts. They also indicated that the recommended

GC Trust stockholders elect two new members of board

Election of two new members of the board and the promotion of two employees at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank were announced by Ernest A. Karandjeff, chairman of the board, following the annual stockholders meeting last week.

The two new members elected to the board are Clyde E. Beimfohr and Darryl W. Slater.

Beimfohr, a resident of Mascoutah, is president of Rite Electric Co., headquartered in Granite City. Beimfohr is active in many civic, fraternal and professional organizations.

He is past master of Douglas Lodge 361 and member of the Granite City Shrine. He also is a member of the VFW and American Legion. Professionally, Beimfohr is a member of the Academy of Electrical Contractors. He has served on the Illinois Chapter of the National Electric Contractors Association as president and governor.

Beimfohr attended Mascoutah Community High School. He later attended the University of Illinois, Southern Illinois University and Washington University.

Darryl W. Slater is president of M. C. Slater, Inc., of Granite City. Slater attended Western Military Academy, Central Methodist College and did post graduate work at the University of Tennessee.

He is a board member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the National Steel Carriers Association.

Presently he is secretary of the Commercial Truck Maintenance Association, and vice president of the Granite City Rotary Club.

Karandjeff's announcement concerning employees related to Robert C. Dietrich, who was elevated to vice president and Dennis Gulley, advanced to assistant cashier.

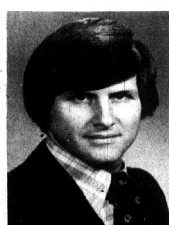

Dietrich, formerly assistant vice president, serves as manager of the data processing department. He is a graduate of the Granite City High School and attended the University of Missouri. Dietrich, his wife and two children are residents of Granite City. Dietrich has served as the chairman of the Uniwah District of the Boy Scouts of America.

Gulley attended SIU where he earned a Bachelor's and Master's degrees. He has earned three certificates from the American Institute of Banking. He presently is a board member of the Red Cross Tri-Cities Chapter. He also is a board member of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Institute of Banking. Gulley is a resident of Granite City. His current position at the bank is supervisor of the note department.

Directors of the bank are: Dale Arnette, Clyde E. Beimfohr, Homer A. Huber, Allen L. Jesse, Ernest A. Karandjeff, Ernest A. Karandjeff Jr., Henry D. Karandjeff, Carl E. Mathias, Thomas R. Remington, and Darryl W. Slater. Milford D. Walston, a member of the board since 1961, will now serve on the bank's advisory board.

In his annual message to stockholders, the board chairman restated Granite City Bank's position as a functioning member of the community. All department heads continue to be urged to focus on the needs of the customers and to develop new techniques to better serve them, he said.

As they have in the past, bank officials and employees have been encouraged to engage in community affairs whenever possible.

"Our mission, as a community oriented banking facility is to recognize the needs of the people which form the community and to respond, as total professionals, to those needs," Karandjeff said.

"We can only understand those needs, objectives and aspirations by listening to our customers and community leaders. Our policy has been to not only understand their banking problems but to anticipate them."

"To insure that the bank's service to the individuals in the area is appropriate to their needs, extensive market research was con-

O'Neal calls hearing on subsidence

Lt. Governor Dave O'Neal has announced that an informational hearing for local leaders and interested citizens concerning work related to recent mine subsidence activities in O'Fallon will be held Friday, Jan. 19, at 11 a.m., at the O'Fallon City Hall, 200 N. Lincoln.

The hearing will be conducted jointly by Lt. Governor O'Neal and Mayor Roy Smith. The purpose will be to discuss the contract for inventory and exploratory work by the Illinois State Geological Survey and the Illinois Department of Engineering Department. The request for the funding had been made by the state's Abandoned Mined Land Reclamation Council, of which Lt. Governor O'Neal is chairman, to the federal Office of Surface Mining.

The Lt. Governor said, "Although federal guidelines do not permit use of funds for repairing damage to private property, the federal Office of Surface Mining is interested in exploring several elements related to the subsidence incidents contract: 1) the extent of the subsidence, 2) whether or not the subsidence is continuing, 3) if other facilities are threatened by subsidence, 4) attempting to analyze causes of the problem, and 5) assessing alternative subsidence preventative techniques."

Passenger hurt in 2-car mishap

An accident on Edwardsville Road at 20th Street at 5:30 p.m. Thursday involved autos operated by James J. Engelke, 1065 Lindell Blvd., and Rudy H. Bailey, 6 Nightingale Lane.

Kristy Lombardi, 21, of 1610 Lindell Blvd., a passenger in the Engelke car, reported sustained a minor injury.

CAR RADIO GONE
Carl McDowell, 2414 (rear) Edwards St., reported at 6 p.m. Thursday that a $200 radio was stolen from his auto which had broken down in the 2900 block of Washington Avenue and been towed to Len's Mobil Station, 2200 Pontoon Road, where it was left overnight.

State recruiting 160 law officers

The Illinois Department of Law Enforcement will be recruiting applicants until the end of February to fill nearly 160 law enforcement officer positions.

According to Tyrone C. Fahner, director of the Department, persons having a high school diploma and who are between 21 and 36 years of age (or 20 years old with a two year law enforcement degree) may pick up an application at any Division of State Police or Division of Criminal Investigation headquarters.

The program is part of an ongoing effort to fill vacancies caused by death, resignation and retirement. Persons successfully completing screening examinations will be invited to an intensive 20 week training course of the Department of Law Enforcement Academy in Springfield starting in late August or September, 1979.

"Being a police officer isn't easy but there are many personal regards for those interested in serving the public," Fahner said. "We are making an all out effort to recruit the best qualified candidates to fill these positions."

Cold Weather puts severe pressure on underground gas lines. In some cases, this unusual pressure may be more than a line can withstand.

Illinois Power is taking extra steps to monitor our gas mains to detect possible leaks. But we can't be everywhere. So we need the cooperation of everyone.

Be Alert for The Odor of Natural Gas.
We add a distinctive odor to the gas that makes it easy to identify.

If you smell a gas leak anywhere, indoors or outdoors, phone us immediately. Tell our operator you're reporting a gas leak. Then tell the location. We'll have a serviceman there right away. Please be on hand when he arrives to help him locate the leak as fast as possible. Our crews are on duty and our emergency phone is manned 24 hours a day.

If You Smell Natural Gas Indoors, leave the building immediately and call us from the nearest phone. Don't flip light switches or use any electric equipment, including the telephone, inside a building where there's a gas leak. Don't light matches or candles. Don't try to find the leak yourself.

Make a note of our emergency gas leak number. And call us at once if you smell natural gas.

Girl Scout Junior Troop 267 of Wilson School held its annual Family Christmas dinner and Court of Awards Ceremony recently at Nameoki United Methodist Church.

A total of 192 badges was earned by the 17 members of the troop. Activities and trips centered around the badges included Shasta Beverage, McDonnell Planetarium, ITTC Bakery, Granite City Fire Department, Jaycee Haunted House, Halloween Party and the Festival of Giving.

Special awards were presented to the following: Patrol leaders and officers — Linda Briner, Michelle Cooper, Kelly Evans, Serena Futrell, Patty Lipchik, Robin Keel, Laura Austin and Laura Star.

Honor patrols — Greased Lightning — Michelle Cooper, Robin Keel, Leslie Smithson, Carla Yager; Thunderbirds — Serena Futrell, Patty Star; Slick Chicks — Patty Lipchik, Laura Austin, Laura Star, Sarah Pascoe.

Perfect attendance — Laura Austin, Patty Lipchik, Linda Briner, Michelle Cooper, Kelly Evans, Dawn Finn, Robin Keel and Melissa Powell.

Special recognition and awards went to three sixth grade girls, Laura Austin, Patty Lipchik and Laura Star. In scouting since the first grade, the girls have earned all of the badges possible for junior scouting.

The evening closed with the girls performing the song, "Pink Palamas." Plans are being made for a winter campout at Camp Torquay in Edwardsville.

Troop leaders are Becky Lipchik and Sharon Earney. The assistants are Vi Austin and Judy Cooper.

Scare stories about house plants

By ALBERT MEYER

Plants can't talk but they need help to combat scare stories that seem to surface periodically — stories about deadly house plants.

The American Association of Nurserymen is trying to combat the idea that poisonous plants are lurking all about the home and garden, just at a time when green or flowering plants are highly popular.

One plant that has been especially maligned is the popular and colorful poinsettia, of which more than 35 million are marketed each Christmas season. The association claims there is no proof that anyone has died from eating poinsettia leaves.

In many tests the plants have been fed to rats without harmful results, but that's no reason to use poinsettia leaves in a salad.

Of course, poisonous plants are around, which, if eaten, may produce some kind of toxic reaction (or even death) for some persons but not others. But the presence of plants around the home is no more dangerous than cleaning materials or aspirin. Just as they are admonished to stay out of medicine cabinets, children should be taught early in life that green plants are not to be eaten, the association says.

To such rumors that many persons, especially children, die annually from eating plants, persons can contact the National Clearinghouse for Poison Control Centers, a division of the Food and Drug Administration in Bethesda, Md.

The agency collects data from more than 500 poison control stations across the nation. The Clearinghouse has reported only five deaths from plant ingestion (eating plants) since 1970, and one of those reports was retracted later because of a clerical error in preparing computer punch-cards.

Of the four confirmed deaths, one was from eating Jimson weed, often found growing wild around farmsteads and used as an illicit drug. Another death resulted from an overdose of peyote, an illegal hallucinogen ground in deerskin fat in the Southwest. One child died from eating black pepper which comes under the agency's classification of plant ingestion. One woman reportedly died from drinking sassafras tea made from plant roots she had dug. She had been hospitalized a year earlier for the same reason.

Investigators wonder if the roots were really in sassafras tea (or may have been collected too late in the growing season).

Horticulturists say there are about 700 species of plants with varying degrees of toxicity, but claim that is no reason for outlawing them. They are something people learn to live with and enjoy.

For example, persons fond of rhubarb pie or sauce should confine usage to the plant stalks which are safe and delicious, but shouldn't let the leaves in the pie or sauce.

The plant extend to using the plant's poisonous leaf blades.

Though some persons believe so, parsnip roots are not toxic. Potatoes having greenish colored skins from exposure to the sun should be peeled deeply or discarded. Sprouts on tubers also should be cut out.

Beware of the beauty of castor plants gardeners often grow for the decorative effects of the bold and lush leaves. The seeds are so toxic that some persons place them in mole runways in lawns to kill the pesky animals.

Some persons cherish the early spring tender shoots of pokeweed plants to cook in combination with other wild or garden greens, but the adult plant and its berries are considered somewhat toxic. Children should be kept from eating the pokeweed berries that in earlier days were used as a dye.

If the child is suspected of nibbling on a plant of unknown qualities, try to induce vomiting until he can be taken to a physician. If possible take along a specimen of the plant to aid in treatment. The local poison control center also may be contacted for help.

Treasure up in smoke

SUVE Department of English

England's answer to John Putnam Thatcher and Ken Nicolls — are sent to London banking firm

Greenwood, Phips and Co. to investigate the possibility of financing a rum distillery on King Charles Island (KCI).

This tiny, self-sufficient Caribbean island, ruled for generations by the O'Hara family, has one export: an exorbitantly expensive cigar, hand-rolled by nuns and shipped by subscription to a few wealthy Floridians.

What makes the rather mediocre cigars so expensive is the amount of high quality marijuana contained in them, marijuana grown in the convent garden with the full knowledge and consent of Father Babington. He believes it is better to sin than to be aimed against by foreign investors.

For the partnellistic, Joe O'Hara has liberally distributed the proceeds of this dubious enterprise among KCI inhabitants, thereby assuring that the island remains uncorrupted by tatty resorts built for vacationing Americans.

Unfortunately, Joe O'Hara is being blackmailed and has therefore put the cigar factory on the market for a ridiculously low figure to attract foreign investors.

Treasure and Gore have one competitor, American Glen Dogwall who represents Sun Fun Industries and who wants to build a tatty resort for vacationing Americans.

All this is complicated by the murder of Joe O'Hara, who is found decapitated in his mountain retreat.

The story is mostly tongue-in-cheek, with Peregrine Gore — slightly reminiscent of Ken Nicolls in "When in Greece" — becoming involved in one compromising situation after another. He and, for that matter, the entire government and economic structure of KCI are replete with cool, logical Mark Treasures.

It is a well written, deviously plotted narrative, by the humor is a bit heavy-handed at times. One wishes that Peregrine Gore's history of embarrassing but innocent escapades with other men's wives were not so often stressed and that his triumphs were not so often undermined by accompanying disasters.

The Dogwalls are overdrawn as ambitious, tasteless upper-middle class Americans. But what the novel lacks in subtlety is compensated by its good fun and clever inventiveness.

Slawomir Mrozek's contemporary comic-drama "Tango," will be presented Feb. 1-4 by the department of theater and dance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The European experimental drama has been interpreted as satirical view of Communist oppression and misuse of power in Mrozek's native Poland.

"Tango" depicts a family's struggles to find value and order "in a world gone mad with freedoms."

"The play can be viewed as a political treatise or as an example of contemporary farce. Either way, it is good entertainment," said director William Griva.

"In the wake of the Jonestown incident and political assassination in San Francisco, the play has topical relevance," he added.

TAKE TWO YEARS OF ARMY BEFORE COLLEGE

If you think you could get more out of college two years from now, consider the benefits of the Army's new two-year enlistment.

There are many challenging job choices available that will test your skill, strength and stamina. You can choose an Army job that could take you anywhere in the continental United States, or even overseas.

And now, if you enlist in the Army for two years, the Army can help you accumulate up to $7400 for college or vocational education through an increased Veterans Educational Assistance Program.

Check out the Army's new two-year enlistment and increased education benefits... available only from today's Army.

... is the best of the season for our delicious, low calorie ...

EVERYONE NEEDS A FRESH
SUPPLY OF VITAMIN C
EVERY DAY ESPECIALLY IN WINTER

CITRUS SUNSHINE

A brimming glass of orange juice, a sunny grapefruit half ... the ideal way to start the day! Why not enjoy "palatably perfect" citrus fruits any time ... not just at breakfast.

The produce department is teeming with colorful vitamin C rich citrus fruit ... oranges, grapefruit, lemons, limes and tangerines ... just waiting to become a refreshing part of meals and between meal snacks. They make a great low-calorie treat in salads, freshly squeezed, as lunch bag brighteners or in luscious desserts.

Most citrus fruits are sold by a numbered size ... the lower the number, the larger the fruit. When selecting fresh citrus, choose those that feel heavy with firm skins and are free of any blemishes or soft spots. Although some skins may be tinged with green, they are all picked when fully mature. Some may have thick skins as nature's protection from hot or cold temperatures, wind or heavy rain.

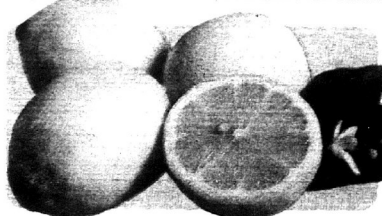

Keep citrus fruit at their best in the refrigerator's vegetable crisper for up to 3 weeks.

Seedless Navel oranges are considered the finest eating orange in the world. They are recognized by a navel-like formation at the blossom end.

Valencia oranges are great for juice. They do have a few seeds and their often green-tinged skin is thinner than Navels.

Easy peeling Tangerines come in several varieties like the Algerians and Dancies with their thin, pebbly skins. The stem and leaf are often still attached.

Mandarins, like the Kinnow, have a light orange smooth skin with a mild flavor and a few seeds.

Tangors, like juicy Temple or Royal Mandarins, are a cross between a tangerine and an orange. They're larger than other tangerines with a very sweet orange-like flavor and many seeds.

A cross between a tangerine and a grapefruit is called a Tangelo. Their tart-sweet flavor is characterized in the Minneola which has a knob-like formation at one end.

Both pink and white grapefruit have few seeds plus an eye-opening flavor. Many people feel that the pink fleshed varieties are sweeter, though experts say there's no difference.

Lemons are picked by size and then allowed to ripen. One lemon gives 1 tablespoon grated peel or squeeze 6 lemons for 1 cup juice.

Bearss and Persian are varieties of refreshing tart limes. One lime yields 2 tablespoons juice or 2 teaspoons grated peel.

FOR ALWAYS PERFECT JUICES
REMEMBER ...

- Valencia oranges make the best juice. Make it ahead, cover and refrigerate.
- Juice from Navel oranges may turn bitter if not used immediately.
- Roll citrus fruit on the counter before squeezing.
- The most juice comes from room temperature fruit.

SUNNY AMBROSIA

3 cups assorted fresh citrus sections
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
½ cup shredded coconut

Place half of the fruit in 4 individual serving dishes. Sprinkle with sugar and coconut. Add the remaining fruit and sprinkle again with sugar and coconut. Makes 4 servings.

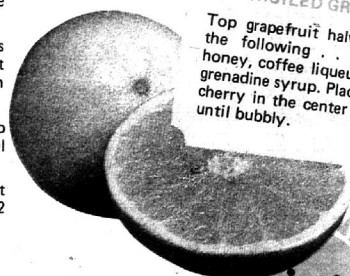

FRUITED SPINACH TOSS

6-7 cups torn fresh spinach
2 cups assorted fresh citrus sections
¼ cup red onion slices
2 tablespoons slivered almonds
Oil and vinegar dressing

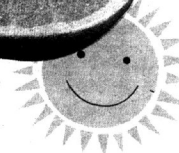

Toss all ingredients together with just enough dressing to coat. Serve immediately. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

BROILED GRAPEFRUIT

Top grapefruit halves with any of the following ... brown sugar, honey, coffee liqueur, maple syrup, grenadine syrup. Place a maraschino cherry in the center and then broil until bubbly.

Citrus, though high in vitamin C, is relatively low in calories. For example, a half of a medium grapefruit (4½ inches in diameter) provides only 55 to 60 calories; a three inch orange - 75 calories.

Top grapefruit halves with any of the following...brown sugar, honey, coffee liqueur, maple syrup, grenadine syrup. Place a maraschino cherry in the center and then broil until bubbly.
